

Steamfitters Technology Center
230 Wise Road
Harmony, PA 16037

John Chamberlin
John@yajagoff.com
412.992.6852

Rachael Rennebeck rachael@yajagoff.com
412.897.1038

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

WhatIsASteamfitter.com
The Answer Is The #PerfectFit For a Career and Future
Steamfitters Local 449 Career Expo on May 23

PITTSBURGH, PA, April 2019—Jobs are a thing of the past so the Steamfitters are seeing to it that construction careers are defining the future. Paid, hands-on training with no debt, steady and well-compensated work, and a first-rate retirement plan await.

Steamfitters Local 449 will host its third annual Expo on May 23, 2019, from 12pm-8pm at Steamfitters Technology Center in Harmony, PA, complete with vendors, contractors and even refreshments to fuel the desire to learn more about WhatIsASteamfitter?

This event will prove a career in construction is thriving and a sustainable alternative to a formal, college-bound path. Expected attendees include everyone from soon-to-be high school grads and those desiring a career change, to contractors looking for those who are world-class trained.

Attendees can connect with current union apprentices, journeymen, continuing members and retirees, business agents, contractors, vendors and even politicians. The Expo will also feature several breakout classes, contractor demos, exhibitors and networking with others interested in the field.

The highlight of the day is that nine Professional Development Hours (PDH) classes will be offered during the Expo at 11am, 1pm and 3pm. The Expo is free and open to anyone interested at all experience levels—from current trade school students to experienced professionals (union and non-union).

Participating vendors to date include E.H. Wachs, Lincoln Electric, HYTORC, Woodstream West Midwest Sales, Highmark, and a range of other vendors representing other industries.

For additional information, visit WhatIsASteamfitter.com or <https://www.ua449.com>.

###